Rebuilt Federal Trucks

A Safe Used Truck to Buy.

A REBUILT FEDERAL is as good value for the money as a new truck. By rebuilt we mean that the truck is entirely taken apart, each part examined and if necessary replaced by a new part made at the Federal factory, the entire truck repainted and refinished, and everything necessary done to make the truck practically as good as new in every detail.

When you buy a rebuilt Federal you are protected by the same policy and interest that we give to all Federal owners. We operate a repair department, in which the workmen are specialists on Federal trucks. Our supply of Federal parts is complete, and the stock room organization high class, which insures the prompt filling of all parts orders. We also operate a service department, which is open day and night, "always at your call." The Federal being a good truck in the first place and protected by a company which is equipped and has the disposition to give you service—in consequence.

A SAFE USED TRUCK TO BUY.

If you are in the market for a truck from $1000 to $1400, we urge you to compare used Federal with new trucks at similar prices. We think we can convince you of their superior value.

Intended for use in homes where electric fans are not employed, a rotary fan has been invented which may readily be attached to a sewing machine so as to furnish a cooling current of air across the work board when the device is in service. The vanes are fastened on a hollow shaft which is arranged to be screwed to the end of the axle of the flywheel. The fan, of course, revolves only when the machine is pedaled. A picture of the fan appears in the September Popular Mechanics Magazine.

AMERICANS AND MEXICANS BATTLE

Border Raiders Massed Along Rio Grande River.

TEN POACHERS SLAIN IN DAY'S FIGHT

One U. S. Trooper Wounded—Grave Possibilities Thought Imminent From Mexican Invasions.

Brownsville, Tex.—With hordes of Mexicans reported massed along the river where a sharp battle between American cavalry and Mexicans took place, 65 miles west of here, with communication between here and San Benito in the raided district all but broken by wire cutters and a sudden calling to quarters of all troops stationed at Fort Brown, the situation growing out of Sunday's hostilities developed swiftly to one of grave possibilities.

At Cavazos Crossing, near Old Hidalgo, Tex., where United States cavalrymen and Mexicans across the river engaged in an all-day battle, ending late in the afternoon, the south bank of the Rio Grande was reported literally lined with Mexicans, well armed, but it could not be ascertained whether they included any Carranza soldiers.

In the day's battle, Captain Frank R. McCoy, commanding the United States cavalry engaged, reported that at least 10 Mexicans were killed, their bodies lying exposed on the plain south of the international boundary. He believed that as many more were killed in their ambush in the brush.

Friends of Peace Conference Cheers at News of Loss of Liner

Chicago—The first session of the National convention of the Friends of Peace, which opened here Monday, was given over largely to the women delegates as a sentimental acknowledgment of the part women must play in the peace movement, but a number of men speakers launched vigorous attacks on what they called the "jingo press" and manufacturers who are shipping munitions to belligerent nations. These attacks were greeted by applause.

A reading of a bulletin announcing that the Allan liner Hesperian had been torpedoed by a German submarine, but immediately a storm of hisses drowned out the applause. The bulletin read by Henry Weissman, of Chicago, chairman of the resolutions committee, contained the erroneous statement that 600 lives had been lost.

Later another bulletin stating no lives had been lost was read and the delegates broke into applause that lasted several minutes.

Mr. Weissman said the action of the submarine confirmed his opinion that reports declaring Germany had acceded to the demands of the United States regarding submarine warfare had been published solely to keep people from attending the convention of the Friends of Peace, and that the "jingo press" had lent its efforts to the movement with that end in view.

Rev. D. C. Berkemeier, of Mount Vernon, N. Y., charged that the influential papers of the United States are trying their best to incite the nation to war.

Torpedo Hits Liner.

London—The Allan Line steamer Hesperian, with 350 passengers and a crew of 300 aboard, bound from Liverpool for Montreal, was attacked without warning by a German submarine off the Irish coast just as darkness was falling Saturday evening. Although the torpedo found its mark, the vessel remained afloat and, according to a statement issued by the company, every one aboard was saved.

No submarine was seen and it was too dark to observe the wake of a torpedo, but all the passengers and crew agree that the attack was made by a German undersea boat, basing their opinion on the force of the shock and the great volume of water thrown into the air.

Armored Cars Victorious.

Petrograd—The war office has issued the following statement: "In the fighting Thursday and Friday on the front from Deragno to the Dneister we took prisoners more than 60 officers and about 3000 men, with some machine guns. From reports received it appears that in the fighting on August 30 on the Strips, in the region of Kozowa-Tarnopol railway, we owed our success especially to our armored motor cars, which have been styled 'rushing victory,' whose crews threw the Germans into great disorder."

Whale Catch Already 340.

Aberdeen, Wash.—A catch of 400 whales off Grays Harbor, or more than has ever been taken here before in a single season, is predicted by Manager James F. Brown, of the Bay City whaling station. Inclement weather only can prevent a phenomenal catch. The proportion of sperm whales is large and catches are made daily. Four whalers are engaged and the plant is kept in steady operation. The catch to date is between 340 and 350.

Poor Grandpa.

"Pa, did you ever run away when you were a boy?" "No, never." "Did you always go to Sunday school?" "I never missed a Sunday." "Did you ever do what your parents told you not to do?" "I am glad to say that I never did." "Didn't you ever make a fuss when you had to take a bath?" "I should say not. I always took my baths without complaining. I liked it." "Didn't it ever make you mad to be called in to do something for your mother when you would rather stay out and play with the other boys?" "It always gave me the keenest pleasure to do things for my mother, no matter whether I had to stop playing or not." "And did you always speak respectfully to your parents?" "Always. That was one of the first things I ever learned to do." "Gee, what a liar grandpa is!"—Rochester Post-Express.

What to Do for Itching Skins

Eczema, ringworm and other itching, burning skin eruptions are so easily made worse by improper treatment, that one has to be very careful. There is one method however, that you need not hesitate to use even on a baby's tender skin—that is, the resinol treatment. Resinol is the prescription of a Baltimore doctor, is put up in the form of resinol ointment and resinol soap. This proved so remarkably successful, that thousands of other physicians have prescribed it constantly for 20 years.

Resinol stops itching instantly, and almost always heals the eruption quickly and at little cost. Resinol ointment and resinol soap can be bought at any druggist's, and are not at all expensive.

Hop Crop Disappointing.

Portland—Hop growers in Oregon are keenly disappointed over the small crop that is being harvested this year. Early in the season it appeared to be a big yield of 140,000 or 150,000 bales, but it is doubtful now if the crop will exceed 100,000 bales.

Some well posted authorities believe it may fall to 85,000 or 90,000 bales. Last year Oregon produced 127,000 bales of hops.

The vines made a good start in the spring and gave promise of a record yield per acre. Early in the summer, however, the wet weather brought on a severe attack of hop lice, and in spite of all the efforts of the growers they could not master the plague.

Spraying was resorted to promptly by most of the farmers, and some yards were gone over four or five times. At first it seemed as if the attack had been checked, but the weather was against the growers, and the vermin reappeared.

Not only in Oregon is the crop coming down below expectations, but the entire American crop will be much less than was figured upon.

In Washington hops are doing better than in other states, but the yield this year is lessened by the plowing up of much acreage in the western counties. In California adverse weather has reduced the crop, and New York hops also suffered from unfavorable weather conditions.

Fine Smelt on Market.

Tacoma—Puget Sound smelts, of the best quality sold here in years, are arriving regularly in large quantities. The demand was never better and the fish roll out at 6 cents a pound. They are said by dealers to be far superior to the famous Columbia river smelt, and for that reason are demanding a higher price. The run is good and large catches are being made daily. Nearly 15,000 pounds of fresh halibut will arrive on the local market. Shipments of this size are needed practically every day to meet the demand.

Market 800 Cars of Pears.

North Yakima—With the pear season rapidly drawing to a close, representatives of the Federal bureau of markets, who have received daily reports of the crop movement, estimate the total volume of pears for this season at 800 carloads. Of straight car shipments, 513 carloads have already moved, 130 carloads of pears have been included in mixed car shipments, and the canneries have taken 40 carloads.

Poultry Demand Is Good.

There was a good supply of poultry on hand in Portland this week, but the demand was active and the market held firm. Hens sold easily at 14 cents and springs at 17 cents. Dressed pork was low. Veal was in light supply and steady. There were no changes in the egg or butter markets. In both lines fancy stock was firm and lower grades were weak.

I. M. WALKER, Pres.

But He Didn't Get It.

He was Scotch, all right, was Sandy MacGregor, and had mislaid his wallet containing $500 at the railway station. He telegraphed his loss to the railway station agent, and the wallet was kept until his return, a month later.

The finder, a young clerk, handed MacGregor the missing wallet and stood in an attitude of eager expectation. The Scot unhesitatingly counted his money and then looked long and suspiciously at the young clerk.

"Isn't it right?" stammered the latter in bewilderment.

"Right! Right! It's right enough," said MacGregor, "but whur's the month's interest?"—National Food Magazine.

Early Indications.

Recommendation Offered.

Mrs. Hiram Daly—Can you get a reference from your last employer. Applicant—Shure I can. I've been workin' for meself for the past six months, an' I can recommend meself to yez highly.—Boston Transcript.

Rural Credits Again.

Getting the money back on to the farm is a job much discussed at various conventions these days; but there are one or two points that seem worth stating: Rural credits is a problem of development, not of charity. We have no downtrodden peasantry in this country, and the legal rate of interest has somewhat restricted the mortgage sharks. Getting completely rid of these fellows is important, but it is much more important to secure in all parts of our country the best possible investment and use of agricultural capital. This should not be done by the privilege method, by state aid, tax exemption, and so on. If the American farmer can't pay his way, nobody can. The real need is better organization of the farming business by means of rural cooperative banks, which will not only do the banking for their members, but will also give them the benefits of centralized buying and selling. The banking will be based on the actual known values of the neighborhood, and the trading operations will be real and not speculative. Along with individual zeal and skill in farming will go a cooperative use of the farmers' business strength. Rural credits must be taken up as a part of this larger problem of agricultural business organization.—Collier's Weekly.
